Bruce Anderson

is a registered teacher trainer with Suzuki Association of the Americas and a highly sought-after clinician for seminars around the world. He holds a Bachelor of Arts in Music from Eckerd College and a Masters degree in Music Education from University of South Florida at Tampa.

Mr. Anderson entered the teacher training program at the Talent Education Institute in Matsumoto, Japan, in 1977, graduating with the degree of Suzuki Piano Teacher in 1980. He studied with Dr. Haruko Kataoka, and continued working and researching with her until her death in 2004. He had the great privilege of also studying violin with Dr. Shinichi Suzuki and Ms. Yuko Mori, while living in Matsumoto.

Mr. Anderson maintains a thriving piano studio in St. Petersburg Beach, Florida, where he works with both students and teachers. His students have performed in many venues, including numerous 10-Piano Concerts in Matsumoto, Japan and Sacramento, California.
